ASSESSMENTS REPORT AUGUST – DECEMBER 2017

Report Analysis:

This BSW Assessment Report showed that each one of the nine (9) CSWE (2015) competencies were evaluated and successfully attained by students. This is a strength of our teaching and learning evaluation system. The professors have been using a variety of teaching techniques, such as: lectures; Power Point presentations; classroom demonstrations; case, groups and community practice management and home assignments among others.

Each assessment activity was objectively evaluated because each one has a rubric numbered as an attachment (see column number 4 of the table, from left to the right) that was used by the professor that taught the course to evaluate the paper the students submitted.

Limitation of our Assessment Plan Implementation: This Plan is comprehensive and takes a lot of time to implement during the academic term, especially in this one (August – December, 2017) because of the interruptions of classes due to Hurricanes Irma and María on September 2017. In some courses, the assessment activities were not done by the students.

Areas to improve: Despite the environmental or internal circumstances, we recognize that may be desirable that each assessment activity could be done as planned. Also, is necessary that corrective actions are implemented immediately if students did not attained the competency.
