Dear Sir,

The real situations that occur in the pedagogical work of our public education system present for every student, future teacher, an incalculable value in their professional training. In any Teacher Education Program, a few hours of clinical practice are carried out in schools. At the Inter-American University of Puerto Rico, a minimum of 200 hours is required, which count as a Teaching Practice with a Cooperating Teacher from your school.

We request your collaboration to use your excellent center to be able to provide our students with a relevant practical experience, according to the student's specialty. In addition, the student will be able to apply what he has learned and demonstrate that he masters the subject for which he was prepared for four years in our Institution.
